

5 = Excellent

Exceptional Customer Service Self-Assessment

2 = Poor

1 = Very poor

Instructions:

Please rate yourself on each statement to reflect your personal performance in each of the following aspects of providing exceptional customer service;
Please note that "customers" in these statements includes internal customers, e.g., coworkers.

3 = Fair

4 = Very good

1.	Being friendly, kind, and respectful to all customers and potential customers (whether you personally like them or not)
2.	Making a point to notice customers who have not been greeted, and greeting them
3.	Listening to customers without interrupting
4.	Following through with what you say you will do
5.	Promptly returning phone calls and emails
6.	Doing your best to fulfill customers' needs/requests
7.	Working with a positive attitude
8.	Being approachable and easy to get along with
9.	Being enjoyable to work with
10.	Leaving a bad mood or personal problems at home
11.	Jumping in to help out
12.	Avoiding a complaining or "that's not my job" mindset

13	_Letting customers know, by your words and actions, that you value them
14	_Avoiding a harsh, rushed, or impatient tone of voice
15	_Avoiding closed-off or dismissive body language (e.g., arms crossed; no eye contact)
16	_Being knowledgeable and trustworthy regarding the work you do
17	_Working calmly and effectively with customers to resolve any problems or concerns
18	_Working to de-escalate tense situations; Avoiding "adding fuel to the fire"
19	_Having a professional appearance (i.e., clean, well-groomed, dressed appropriately)
20	_Trying to put yourself in your customers' shoes, particularly when they are stressed
21	_Communicating clearly
	_Taking personal responsibility for answering a customer's question, or directing them to right person
23	_Saying good things about your organization, its employees, customers, and services
	Respecting customer differences, e.g., those who value chit-chat vs. those who just want to get the job done as quickly as possible
25	Having a strong work ethic and working with excellence on a daily basis

Reflection Questions:

- What are your strongest areas of customer service, according to this assessment?
- What areas were your lowest ratings? Do you agree that they are areas you should improve in?
- Please set a goal for one area of customer service in which you will focus on improving.
   Tell what actions you will take to make that happen.